Mount Shasta 2010 Wall Calendar: Where Heaven & Earth Meet Jane English, Beth Beurkens

Towering 14,179 feet above sea level in far northern California, Mount Shasta is a landmark comparable to Japan's Mount Fuji. This majestic peak is the second highest volcano in the Cascade Range and part of the Pacific Ocean's Ring of Fire. And while global warming is shrinking most of the world's glaciers, Mount Shasta provides a rare exception; its seven glaciers continue to grow. For the Mount Shasta 2010 wall calendar, photographer Jane English and editor Beth Beurkens have paired images by Jane and other photographers with inspirational writings collected by Beth that give diverse perspectives on this magnificent mountain. Other products available from Jane English include the books Mount Shasta Reflections and Mount Shasta's Black Butte and a Mount Shasta journal.
